

DePaul School for Hearing and Speech

Where Children with Hearing Impairments Speak Miracles

6202 Alder Street · Pittsburgh, PA 15206 · 412/924-1012 V/TTY · 412/924-1037 FAX
<http://www.speakmiracles.org>

For Immediate Release – August 25, 2006

Contact: David Misra, Dir. Of Institutional Advancement
(412) 924-1029 /cell: (412) 605-9207; dm@depaulinst.com

DePAUL SCHOOL FOR HEARING & SPEECH TEAMS WITH UPMC AT HEALTHY 4 LIFE

DePaul and University of Pittsburgh Medical Center to Offer Free Audiological Exams to Expo Event Goers

WHAT: DePaul School for Hearing and Speech and University of Pittsburgh Medical Center (Center for Audiology) will provide free pediatric screenings for children and free hearing tests for adults at Healthy 4 Life Expo.

WHO: DePaul Audiologist Ms. Debra Tobin
UPMC Audiologist Ms. Kris English
UPMC Director of Audiology Ms. Catherine V. Palmer, PhD

WHEN: Saturday, August 26 from 1:00 – 4:00 PM

WHERE: David L. Lawrence Convention Center in Downtown Pittsburgh -- signup is at DePaul's booth location in Exhibit Hall A (2nd floor).

DePaul School for Hearing and Speech, established in 1908 by the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill is the largest school in western Pennsylvania serving deaf or hard of hearing children through oral education. Our programs prepare students, from birth to 14, to fully participate in our hearing and speaking world through speech, reading, and language development.

DePaul provides wide-ranging support services including pediatric cochlear implant habilitation, speech, physical and occupational therapy and parent education. DePaul is a non-profit, day school and our students typically mainstream before their middle school years with minimal support and go on to lead productive lives in the community.

For more information about DePaul School for Hearing and Speech and its programs – please call (412) 924-1012 or visit www.speakmiracles.org.

###